Are you – or someone you know -
looking for a therapist who understands you and is qualified?

IMHPJ is the solution...

IMHPJ is a voluntary association of international mental health professionals in Japan (founded in 1997) for those who have demonstrated proof of their professional credentials in their countries of origin. Members are working in private practices or mental health related organizations Japan-wide.

IMHPJ maintains an up-to-date database of their members. Look up www.imhpj.org and find the professional profile of the therapist of your choice.

IMHPJ members adhere to the IMHPJ code of ethics. IMHPJ actively addresses ethical concerns.

IMHPJ Clinical Members hold a Masters degree or higher (or equivalent degree/s) with supervised postgraduate clinical experience. Associate members are therapists not yet eligible for clinical membership, students or work in related mental health fields.

IMHPJ is multidisciplinary, including Psychiatrists, Psychologists, Social Workers, Family Therapists and Child Psychologists, etc.

IMHPJ members offer a range of recognized therapeutic approaches for the treatment of relationship issues, stress, anxiety, depression, abuse, cross-cultural issues, children's emotional and educational problems and many other issues. Many of our members also offer phone counseling.

IMHPJ Native speakers offer therapy in English, Dutch, German, French, Spanish, Japanese and Polish. Some members are bilingual.
